NO CLUES

As to Whereabouts of Missing School Teacher Are Found by Searchers.

Sergeant Frank J. Tracy, of the local police department, returned Thursday night from Uniontown, where, in company with G. W. Smith and Deputy Sheriff Bradford, both of Middlebourne, he has been in search of Blaine Smith, the young teacher in the local junior high school, who disappeared from this city ten days ago. Sergeant Tracy says that the missing man has not yet been located. The telephone message from Smith's sister to the local authorities stating that he had been heard from and was safe referred to a post card mailed at Uniontown, Mr. Tracy said. The young woman took the course more to quiet the fears of her mother than for any other reason, in the opinion of Mr. Tracy.

G. W. Smith, father of the missing young man, is still in Uniontown searching for his son, while the deputy sheriff is in Pittsburg making a search. If no results are obtained in either place, Mr. Smith plans to go to eastern cities in search of his son.

ANNIVERSARY

Sale at Baker's is Attracting Large Crowds of Bargain Seekers Daily.

The fourteenth anniversary sale being held this week by Baker's Under-Selling Store is a big success as shown by the following statement to a Telegram representative by the firm's advertising manager:

Today and Saturday will be the last days of Baker's fourteenth anniversary sale.

Since opening day one week ago this big store has been packed with eager shoppers daily who are now buying their fall and winter needs at greatly reduced prices, right at the start of the season. From the entire surrounding section people are recognizing that this big bargain home stands supreme for value giving as it did since away back in 1902.

The largest and most varied stock of new fall and winter goods the firm has ever carried is now open for your inspection offering the highest grades of seasonable merchandise at under-selling prices are lowest ones. During these fourteen years the people of Clarksburg and surrounding counties have shown this concern untiring loyalty, have contributed to their remarkable success by a constant and generous patronage. Each of the fourteen anniversaries they have endeavored to show their appreciation by arranging a grand bargain festival with lots of good things in the way of values. Yet all their past efforts will indeed sink into insignificance when it will be compared with this their fourteenth anniversary sale. They have been more liberal than ever in co-operation with numerous manufacturers who have granted them special price concessions to make this as it has proved to be the greatest sale in their successful history. The last two days, Friday and Saturday, promise to be the best for values, as eager and discriminating shoppers will easily recognize.

COFFEE A NARCOTIC AND DOPE WITH OPIUM

Well known medical writer declares coffee, like opium, holds victims in pitiless grasp.

"I would like to make everyone thoroughly understand that coffee is a narcotic—a very strong narcotic, too," says Dr. C. S. Carr in a communication to the Ohio State Journal.

"There is no drug in the pharmacopoeia that has a more powerful effect upon the brain centers than coffee. Coffee is a dope and narcotic almost equal to opium. To be sure, it does not produce at once the mental disaster that opium does. Slowly but surely coffee gets control of its victim and holds him in its grasp, a pitiless helpless victim."

NOTE—The food-drink, Instant Postum, while much resembling the higher grades of Java coffee in flavor and appearance, is absolutely free from the coffee drug, caffeine and tannin, or any other harmful ingredient. Pure, wholesome, harmless, convenient, economical, this delicious hot beverage is rapidly taking the place of coffee in homes where health is a prime consideration. Advertisement.

ROBBERS GET $500,000

somewhere in the mail car.

After the robbers had forced the engineer and fireman to detach the mail car and proceed westward, Conductor Morgan walked back to Central and from there telegraphic despatches telling of the robbery were sent out to federal authorities and the head offices of the Monongah division of the railroad at Grafton.

Had not train officials been immediately notified of the robbery, a disastrous wreck probably would have occurred, as the engine and mail car left by robbers was on the main track and directly in the path of eastbound train No. 2. Upon hearing Conductor Morgan's report of the robbery, wire orders were sent out for No. 2 to take the siding at Ellenboro. On account of the delay, No. 2, due here at 3:48, did not reach the city until a few minutes after 8 o'clock.

Telephone messages received at noon stated that a large posse of federal, state and county officers, aided by Sheriff Stout's blood hounds, were in hot pursuit of four men, supposed to be the train bandits, in the woods some distance south of Greenwood, which is three miles west of Central.

STOLEN BANK NOTES ARE GOOD

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—No word had reached the comptroller of the currency early today concerning the West Virginia train robbery and officials are at a loss to determine to what banks the stolen notes were destined.

Unsigned bank notes under the law are legal tender and must be redeemed when presented at the treasury. Under the old method of delivering them to the banks the banks themselves were liable for redemption. The express companies were regarded as the agents of the banks and the government ceased to be responsible for bank notes delivered to them. Under the present system of shipping bank notes by registered mail or parcels post, the question of whether the government or the banks shall be liable for redemption of stolen notes has not been determined. In cases of such shipments there has been no transfer to an agent of the bank.

When Secretary McAdoo announced that he intended to use the mails to transport money and notes he said such shipments would be properly insured and officials believed the stolen shipments were fully covered.

BEESON H. BROWN DEAD AFTER A LONG ILLNESS

Prominent Clarksburg Capitalist and Banker is a Victim of Paralysis.

In the death of Beeson H. Brown, which occurred at a local hospital Thursday afternoon, the business and financial interests of this community, with which he has been largely identified, sustained a distinct loss. A man of quiet, unassuming disposition, always shunning public life, his counsel and backing were frequently instrumental in bringing about coal, oil, gas, mercantile and financial developments, which have proved most important and valuable to Clarksburg and vicinity. In these he took an active interest all during his residence of nearly half a century here.

His death was caused by a paralytic stroke about a week before his death, following a former stroke some three years ago, from which he had largely recovered, attending to business to the time of his death.

Mr. Brown was born at Markleysburg, Fayette county, Pennsylvania, 72 years ago. Entering on a business career at an early age he soon became the principal wool-buyer for the firm of Beeson and Company, a large mercantile house of Uniontown, Pa. He first visited Clarksburg in 1868, on one of his buying trips, which he followed up frequently afterwards, becoming much attached to Clarksburg and Harrison county by reason of its live stock industry and promising future, which he then foresaw.

Mr. Brown came of Scotch ancestry, his grandfather, Thomas Brown having come to this country with two brothers, William and John, locating first in New York state. Later Thomas Brown moved to Gettysburg, Pa., and on the building of the national road through Pennsylvania, he moved on west to Summerfield, that state, where he acquired several thousand acres of land and established one of the principal hostleries on those days on the national road between Cumberland and Wheeling.

Thomas Brown had two sons, Robert and Jacob. Robert, father of the deceased, married Amelia Galtner of which union the following children were born: Jack, who died several years ago; Martha, now Mrs. Samuel Umbel, living at Uniontown, Pa.; Beeson H., the deceased; John W., living in this city, and Mrs. Mary Howell, who died at Phillips, this

AGED MAN JAILED AS FORGER AND BIGAMIST

Andrew W. Lightner is Trained to City by Detectives and Imprisoned.

Trained from Pennsylvania cities to Clarksburg by a detective of the Pinkerton National Detective Agency of Pittsburg, Andrew W. Lightner, an aged man who formerly lived at Marlinton and who recently worked as a street laborer here, is a prisoner in the county jail awaiting hearings under charges of forgery and bigamy. He was arrested soon after his return to Clarksburg from Pennsylvania late Thursday night at a boarding house in Glen Elk by Constable Robert McClung.

The forgery charge against the aged prisoner was preferred in Magistrate R. Edward Kidd's court about three weeks ago by an officer of the Empire National Bank, of this city, who charged him with forging the name of Cora Styres to different checks, one for $20, another for $30 and still another for $75. It is alleged that the woman discovered the forgery when she had her bank book balanced and received cancelled checks.

The bigamy charge was preferred by A. J. Findley, prosecuting attorney, in Magistrate Jackson V. Carter's court. This charge bears the allegation that prior to 1915 Mr. Lightner married a person to the complainant unknown and that on January 11, 1915, he married Cora Styres without having been divorced from his first wife. When the warrant under this charge was served upon Mr. Lightner, he declared that he had papers to show that he had been divorced from his first wife.

According to information given officers, Lightner and his wife had a quarrel and separated at the time she discovered the alleged check forgery.
